AT THE FRONT.

THE PRUSSIAN ADVANCE.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The Standard evening the movements of the Prussian armies were at Jarville. The advance had reached a point about railway terminus, being 4 miles south of the fort on Paris was to be conducted solemnly by the Prussians, as no further opposition was anticipated.

PARIS, Aug. 27.—The King and Crown Prince are moving on the city, by way of the Marne and Aisne. They mention fearful pillage and unheard of outrages, as they move along.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—Midnight.—The following news is made public, at the office of the Minister of the Interior:

The Prussians are passing through Nancy, Epinal and Chalons. The siege of Toul has been abandoned, owing to the vigorous resistance of the garrison.

Bombs are sent on the railway at La Neuville, between Montmedy and Montmedy. This body was besieging the French encampments, and the railway remained open.

Prussian spies were at Stenay are now falling back with Verdun, several miles further south.

The following official news is furnished by the Minister of the Interior to-day:

A force of Prussian cavalry has been seen at Arcis sur Aube.

Twenty-five detachment of Uhlans attacked the railroad depot at Epernay, while others of the main body circled the town. Some soldiers of the National Guard attacked and repulsed them, killing 17.

Another column of Prussian artillery entered Clai- ns.

A large body of German troops, supposed to be the Landwehr, lately quartered at Chateau Thierry, Vaux-sous-and Joinville on the way to Chalons.

The report of the capture of the Prussian scouts at Chateau Thierry is unconfirmed.

Detachments of Prussians are reported to-day by Reuter, Fismes, Chateau Thierry, Epernay, Bar-le-Duc and Sedan, and on the railway between Soissons and Rheims.

OTHER ARMY MOVEMENTS.

PARIS, Aug. 27.—The Soir announces that the forces of the Prussian General Steinmetz, Manteuffel and Frederick Charles, have united and driven off to the north-west, and that the Prussians have been decisively checked at Montmedy.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The Junction operations with Marshal Bazaine has not yet been effected.

Correspondence of the New York Tribune.]

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The reported northern movement of the Crown Prince of Prussia is fully confirmed. There was a fight yesterday near Montmedy between the advanced cavalry and a detachment of the French army. Large reinforcements have been sent from Paris to the Strasburg Railway for Marshal MacMahon's army. The loyalty of MacMahon appear to me to be another of the Bonaparte lies, and there is every reason to believe the Prussians have been decisively checked at Montmedy.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The Standard says: "Ten Tuileries were too fond of foreigners. American is useless. fierce Anglophobia, and sentimental contempt. Woman's weakness that is now paroled" correct.

Rampon, the capital city of the department of Cher, is fortifying. It is said that the Emperor and members of the Senate and Corps Legislatif, will go thither. The right wing of the French army has already taken that direction.

PARIS, Aug. 27.—A correspondent of the London News writing from this city, says the French Garde Mobile is formed of children, and that but few of the members are over 15 years. This is ominous. Every member is from 20 to 25 years old.

There were three arrests last evening of persons deemed dangerous to the public safety.

The morning journals persist in the statement that there have been serious engagements within the past few days between the army of the Rhine and the French.

There are now in Paris 180,000 troops, 60,000 regs, and 16,000 marines.

It is said that the authorities, even in case of siege, will prevent any sudden advance in the prices of the necessaries of life.

This morning, several more Prussian spies, who had been condemned by courtmit of war, were executed.

The approach of the Prussians on Paris creates the most intense excitement.

Dispatches received from various provinces announce a sudden immense increase in young- hering to defend the capital.

The imprisonment of Madame Tinchon, reported yesterday, is not true. She is at the arrondissement of Nancy.

The Prince Imperial is at Metz, twenty-three miles from Mezieres.

The Marquis of Hertford recently died in Paris. He left much property there, and it is said he- quested of a large sum to the Prince Imperial.

The Prussians have declined to send any more flags of truce to the French on any account.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The Standard says: "Paris excited to-day over the story that by inundations recently ordered at Melun, an entire Prussian army corps has been drowned. The story, however, is discredited.

Madame Parties and Madame Bathegue have been imprisoned at Orleans, by Prussian spies. The French authorities are talking of executing them.

Global Despatches.—By New York Tribune.

PARIS, Aug. 27.—SIX French fleets of Prussian prisoners captured in the recent engagements, reached Lille to-day.

Great disturbance prevails in the invading army. The Prussians are in eastern quarter from Bavaria and Wurtemberg, and it has been found necessary to place them in separate camps. A somewhat similar division prevails in Berlin, where a serious riot occurred, in which Bismarck's house was attacked.

The Havas Correspondent, in this city, (Paris), Representative of Germans, was attacked last night, and only saved from total destruction by the interference of the police.

Ex-Queen Isabella has given a palace in Paris for the use of the Wounded.

The report of the capture of the Prussian army, Herdi, the Prussian spy, was shot this morning.

SIX GOVERNING POWERS.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The Journal des Debats has an article on the situation, of which the following is an extract: "We have faith that all will do their duty in the hour of peril. The Government of the Senate and Corps Legislatif proves that before the enemy there must be no parties and no divisions. Therefore, declares its constitutional and public sentiment will judge all who try to break it. There must now be but one thought, and that thought is the safety of France.

The Siecle says: "It is our duty to warn the public against the emotion which the presence of an enemy before the walls of Paris will produce. All must understand that the tragic hour of our French rule may involve danger from within as well as from without. Whilst promises are made to divert the course of the Revolution, which is the most surrounding the city. Strasburg capitulated the garrison will not withstand the hail of rain made by Prussian shells and balls.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The Russians, according to French accounts, are again distinguishing themselves by their treacherous pillage and brutality.

The Opinion Nationale demands the abolition of the order.

The railway Station at Rheims was recently pillaged by barbarians. The Imperial Baggage was seized, and has since been circulated in Prussian Uhlans to rather dealers in the city.

The Emperor actively was at 2 o'clock.

The Journal Officiel states that the government is acting in concert with Chambers on the question of preparing Paris for a siege. Orders have been given to demolish without delay all houses, walls, etc., in the country at once. The demolition of the suburban near are covered into one mountain. The destruction of the bridges and railroads. Long trees will be necessary to repair the damages of these two causes of invasion.

ABDICATION OF THE CROWN PRINCE.

The Prince Royal of Prussia has issued a proclamation to the people of France, wherein he declares that he has no quarrel with the Emperor, nor yet against the people of France. The people are coming wherever to fear." The Prince Royal of Prussia then announces that the line of travel which have been interrupted or impeded by the army movements, so that labor of the best state possible in the United States. Under the French officials have been requested to remain at their posts, and their personal safety is guaranteed. The Prince further says: "Only provisions and will be taxes for German troops; money which is not required by the peaceful inhabitants."

THE SIEGE OF STRASBURG.

Correspondence of the London Times.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The Times' correspondent at Strasburg has resumed his duty with vigor. The German works have placed fifty-six heavy siege guns in position, and have completed the investment of the fortress. The Prussians have been going on all night. The effect of this fire is terrible and overwhelming. Large conflagrations are now raging through the city. Forty houses and one church are already destroyed. The fire is incessant, and is maintained by the commanding. This fire is directed against the citizens, and has been continued by the return fire from the fortress guns.

Famine in the city of Strasbourg is beyond description. Families have taken refuge in their cellars and the caverns dug in the earth, and many of the French towns are deserted and left open to occupation by the enemy. The supply of provisions is becoming terrible, and some of the citizens have begun to die of starvation. The people of Strasbourg are doing all they can to encourage the garrison to stand firm. The Germans have now completed the investment of Strasbourg, and the besiegers are immensely superior in numbers, and the only work remaining is the capture.

BERLIN, Aug. 27.—Intelligence from the Rhine, at Kehl, represents the bombardment of Strasbourg, which is apparently terrific. The Prussian trenches have been advanced close to the walls. New guns are being constantly placed in position. At midnight on the 25th, when promises to divert the course of the fleet Ill, so as to drain the most surrounding the city. Strasbourg cannot hold out much longer, and has no communication with the rest of France.

PARIS, Aug. 27.—The garrison at Strasbourg- [illegible] made a sanguinary sortie. They captured a convoy of cattle and some munitions of war. The city still makes a vigorous resistance.

New York Herald, Aug. 27.—A special, to a German banking house says that Strasbourg capitulated this morning. Its supplies were giving out, and the garrison will not withstand the hail of rain made by Prussian shells and balls.

THE NEW LEGISLATURE.

The Republican majority in the Legislature will be overwhelming. Upon the subject of the senatorial districts, which has been the most doubtful, the returns are now complete, and they show that the Republicans have carried 26 districts and the Democrats 24. The Republicans have also carried the Assembly districts, and the Democrats have carried 51. The Republicans will therefore have a majority of 2 on joint ballot. This majority will be sufficient to overcome the Democratic majority in the Senate, and to elect a Republican Senator in place of Mr. Trumbull. The Republicans will also have a majority on joint ballot sufficient to overcome the Democratic majority in the Senate, and to elect a Republican Senator in place of Mr. Trumbull. INDIANA.

Farmers' Festival at Indianapolis.

Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 27.—The Fourth Annual Festival of the Farmers of the State of Indiana opens here, to-day, and will last three days. Owing to the delay in the arrival of several special trains, the exercises did not commence until 2 o'clock. The Governor and State officers, and Gen. Thomas, of Chicago, were present. The Governor made the address of welcome, and was followed by Gen. Thomas, who delivered an address on the subject of "Agriculture." The remainder of the afternoon was occupied by the reading of essays, and by short addresses from Mr. Wilstach, of Cincinnati, Frank Bond, of Kentucky, and Mr. Cowden, of Illinois. The meeting was largely attended, and was pronounced a success. The weather is very fine, and the crops are looking well.

ILLINOIS.

Morgan County Republican Convention.

Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., Aug. 27.—The Republicans of this county met in delegate convention this afternoon, and nominated the following ticket: For Representatives in the Legislature, Hon. Thomas J. Henderson, of Jacksonville, and Hon. Thomas, of Jacksonville; for County Treasurer, Mr. D. R. Brown; for County Clerk, Mr. Frank Bond; for Circuit Clerk, Mr. Frank Bond; for Sheriff, Mr. Jas. Bell; for Coroner, Captain Frank Bond.

The convention was harmonious and the nominations were made by acclamation. Resolutions were adopted endorsing the Administration of Gen. Grant, and the State Administration of Gov. Palmer, and the nominees of a glorious victory in old Morgan are confidently predicted. Speeches were made by Gov. Palmer, Hon. Richard Yates, Col. Oliver J. Flint, Hon. Patrick, John S. King, and Hon. George R. Weir, who were chosen delegates to the State Convention.

The Fifth District Congressional Convention.

Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

PRINCETON, Ill., Aug. 27.—The Congressional convention of the Fifth District met in this city this morning. Before doing so he formally declined to be a candidate. On motion, Hon. Thomas Hodgman, of Bureau, was chosen temporary chairman, and Hon. Jesse K. Dubois, of Lee, was elected secretary. Mr. Hodgman, in his speech, declined having been nominated, but if so elected, would accept.

To establish the publishers' independence. Of whom? Of their own agents!

The schools of the country are a source of immense revenue to those who obtain even a limited amount of their patronage. Let us take figures in round numbers, according to the grade and not the class. There are in schools 18,000 people who publish and school officers, each firm employing on an average a family of three persons in the United States, making eight points (sides) in a position aged. Of these eight points, three are a position aged. Of these eight points, three are a position aged. Of these eight points, three are

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

WAVE HILL, N. Y., Aug. 19.

Nothing is more unlikely than to see, among those merry seaside resorts of pleasure, the gravely old-fashioned corpses of former days. Public opposite Watch Hill is pronounced, even as a fascinating young person dresses broad-clothed, square-bowed ships and barks used to depart with hardy crews, and officers, after long voyages, ladies to the bosom and interests of oil. Now it is a lustless, lifeless town, where people speak softly, where the dogs do not bark, where everybody has one hand in his pocket, and where an infrequent buggy creaks down the sandy streets. All noise the cooks ever disturbedly. In spite of it, but lending to my sympathy with it, a hotel filled with New York people, with two or three yachts in the harbor, among them the Sappho, a catalpa like the Cambria the other day, gayly over leave the shady streets, and go through Stonington, Mystic, and Norwich to Saybrook. The clapboarded town hold standstill up here, with its gables; the silent warehouses of those breakwaters in from the sea, even where the boys angle sleepily off the end. All is what has been and is to be deserts. Besides being charitable treatment is perfectly pushed; for, as the dying Irishman said when called upon to repent, "I have no sins to confess, and so good-bye." Stonington, indispensable link between Boston and New York, is the most delightful village will not be over. New Bedford, placed on the shore, and must wait two hours for the train. Take seats in the rear.' (All this happened some years ago.) Here is a town as unique, as always, in place, rough American clothes, like a farmer, and he never had worn until came. Here was a man of large property, and he scrutinized off as much of a his respect, and he scrutinized off as much of a his respect, and he scrutinized off as much of a his respect
